AGIO WINS STEEPLECHASE.

RIDDEN WELL BY MR. SPENCER HE DEFEATS RED HAWK.

Spring Gallops Off With Three-Year-Old Event--Lady Frances and Garrett Wilson Capture Events for Youngsters
—Cormack's Riding Is a Feature.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The racing at comings this afternoon drew one of the irgest crowds of the present meeting. The bhouse was thronged with notables and the betting ring was jammed with an army of speculators who fairly swamped the layers. feature of the card, from society's se for aunters, at about two miles, in which gentlemen riders had the leg.up. Six started and, wonderful to relate, nobody fell. J. D. Hall, Jr.'s, Azlo and Charles O'Malley were coupled favorites at 3 to 2, with all of the others, barring De Garnette, well played at short prices.

Agio was ridden by Mr. Spencer and carried the lightest impost, 147 pounds. He was held in restraint during the first mile and a half, while Red Hawk, with 173 pounds, Mr. Evans in the saddle, made the pace. Then as the flat was reached, Agio got his head and won easily by ten lengths. Red Hawk was second, the same distance before Twilight II., piloted by Mr. Knut. first two riders received valuable pieces of plate as a reward for their skill. Mentrip, ridden by Mr. Leith, was bleeding treely when he finished. The race was run

The Goughacres Stable's Spring was about the surest thing of the day. He started in the third event, for three year-olds at six and a half furlongs, and was a prohibitive favorite at 1 to 3. After kicking up at the post Cormack got him away in fine style, the Atheling colt spreadeagling his field in the Athening cost spreadeaging his field in startling fashion and coming home on the fit three lengths over Go Between, second choice. he latter was eight lengths before Toi San. 20 to 1, who beat Eclectic a head in a fierce drive. Spring's time was 1:27.

Seventeen maidens faced the barrier in the opening event, at five furlongs. Rocka slight favorite over The Bowery and Sweet Jane, after following Tide's pacemaking for three furlongs, stopped to nothing. Then Hennessy rushed up from the rear with ing for three furlongs, stopped to nothing. Then Hennessy rushed up from the rear with Esperance, 10 to 1, and scored an exciting victory for the Schaffer-Meyer confederacy by a head in 1:08 3-5. The Bowery also came from away back and took second money from Cappamore, 15 to 1, by a length. The latter was a head in front of Bouvier, 60 to 1.

The Columbia stable's Lady Frances, by Rafallo-Graziosa, won the second event, for maiden two-year-olds, at four and a half furlongs, in a gallop. She was a 3 to 5 favorite, and made a runaway race of it from the start dirdlestone, lowered to 8 to 1, ran second under a hard ride from Shaw and beat the Tenny colt. Only One, also backed down to eights, by a head. The time was 1:00 3-5.

John E. Madden's Auction, a filly by Plaudit—Vendu, was a hot tip for the fifth race, a selling event for two-year-olds at four and a half furlongs. But the filly was a triffe short, for after running well up with the leaders for half the distance, she chucked it up and came in last. Tony Aste's Garrett Wilson, 7 to 2, got a splendid ride from young Cormack and in the best finish of the day he took the race by a head from Little Woods, 8 to 1, who was a head before All Scarlet, 7 to 2. The time was 1:01.

The last race, for maidens at a mile and a sixteenth, went to the favorite, Sailor's Delight, who made all of the running and won by a length and a half from Cay, second choice. East Kelston was a similiar distance behind. Cormack's riding was one of the features. He handled two winners, a second and a third in five mounts. Four favorites and a second choice served further to illustrate the consistency of public form at this meeting.

S. S. Howland, president of the Washington locker. Club held a conference to day with meeting.

S. S. Howland, president of the Washington Jockey Club, held a conference to-day with District Attorney Reach regarding the crusade against betting at the track, with the result that Mr. Howland announced that the meeting would continue without interference up to the last scheduled day, next Thursday. It was said that contemplated alterations at the track would not be begun, however, until a decision in the test case to be tried soon in the Federal courts had been handed down.

The selling race war broke out again after the fifth race, when Cornelius Fellows, Jr., ran up the winner, Garrett Wilson, to $1,500 and got him, Aste declining to go higher.

GOSSIP OF THE RACETRACK. Duryea Horses Make Their Bow on Sheep

head's Track. The damp, dreary weather yesterday did not serve to lesson the activity at the Long Island tracks, where the racers were put through their paces early in the day. Walter B. Jennings's horses, sixteen head, arrived at Gravesend in the morning, having come all the way from California. The long railroad ride was without accident, and the string went to the stable in appar ently good shape.

Jack McGinnis's horses will be taken from Gravesend to Aqueduct to-morrow. McGinnis will be represented in the Carter Handicap by Sweet Alice, who will carry 102 pounds and is in good shape. Other stables will be sent over to the Queens County Jockey Club's track on Tuesday and Wednesday, all the gaged.

Despite a heavy fog, Fred Berlew got his horses on the Gravesend track before noon Charles Elwood, Astarita, Beldame and Em-barrassment seemed to be more ready for racing than the others, and they will be seen most likely at Aqueduct, Beldame starting in the Carter. Tom Welsh let Major Dainger which was followed by similar exercise for

Frank Taylor let Grand Opera breeze five furlongs in 1:12, while all of Bill Daly's horses were sent along at a smart clip. Other horses that were seen at the Brooklyn Jockey Club's track were Indiscreet, Confessor Whitestone, Knobhampton, Reliance, New York, Headlad, Ned Moore, Bob Murphy, John F., Courtmaid, The Captain, April Shower, The Doctor, Rostand, Courtenay, Gascar, Kingraine and May Bender. At Sheepshead Bay the event of the day was the first appearance of some of H. B. Durvea's horses in the care of John W. Rogers Gunfire, Irish Lad. Mercury, Mineola, Reliable and others were indulged in jogging exercise, Trainer Rogers accompanying them on horseback. All showed the resul of a splendid wintering at Aiken, S. C. A. J. Joyner was on hand to look after the work of the Haggin and Paget horses, but none

A. J. Joyner was on hand to look after the work of the Haggin and Paget horses, but none of them did anything of a startling nature. Waterboy and Hamburg Belle were both out, trotting and cantering. Wally Fessenden's Pass Book, who won at 100 to 1 at Jamaica last fall, worked a half in 0.52. J. D. Adkins's Lord of the Valley and Lady Mirthful, the latter a probable starter in the Carter, both took short breathers. A starting barrier was erected at the track in the morning and many trainers began schooling their horses.

A regular race train will be run on Friday next from Sheepshead Bay to Aquoduct. It will be made up of cars for horses and coaches for passengers, and will return to the Bay each day after the races. The same service will prevail during the Jamaica meeting.

Word comes from the West that the threatened turf war has been practically blocked. The Worth people, it is said, have agreed to accept the dates allotted to them by the Western Jockey Club, on condition that they will, receive twenty-five days next May, a proposition that has been pronounced fair by the other racing associations.

Among the horses now at Washington who are expected to start in the Carter next Friday are Graziallo, Peter Paul, Ascension and Conkling.

Jockey Redfern is confined to his room with a severe cold and will not ride again at Washington.

Grover Cleveland Fuller has been engaged to ride J. Boden's crack Hastings filly, Rosetint, in the Carter, Rosetint's weight is 110 pounds. Cormack has been engaged to ride Red Knight in the same race.

E. Walsh has been suspended by Starter Cassidy for misbehavior at the post more than any other jockey riding at Bennings.

H. E. Rowell has arrived at Aqueduct with The Don, Venator, Yellow Tail and others. The Don will go in the Carter. P. J. Gorman's horses, including Bardolph, Lem Reed and Jack Ratlin, are at Jamaica.

RACING AT MEMPHIS. Presgrave Takes the Cotton Steeplechase

From a Big Field. MEMPHIS, April 9 -- Wintry weather caused iscomfort to the large crowd attracted to Montgomery Park to-day by the running of the Cotton Steeplechase, the highest class hurdle event of the meeting. Eleven horses faced the flag, and only one of the number, Curate, fell. Gin Spray and Ohnet ran from the course, but were forced back and trailed the field to the finish. The winner developed in Presgrave, the second choice, with the favorite, Golden Link, second. The finish was so close that only the judges could tell the winner.

In the third race, at one mile, Capt. S. S. Brown's Auditor won as he pleased. The three other starters were outclassed by the Brown colt and the talent placed its money recklessly at odds of 2 to 5 on the favorite. COLUMBIA ROWING PRACTICE. Eights Travel Five Miles on the Harlem Under Hard Conditions.

Nearly five miles of good steady pulling, with the tide against them going down stream and the wind to buck against going up, was the task set for Columbia's crew candidates yesterday afternoon. Most of the men were out on the Harlem early and until the fog began to settle down, the air was biting cold on the river. It was with difficulty that they kept warm, even when pulling hard, and the coxswains nearly froze where they sat. The squad is quite as large as it has been since the men got out on the water, but Coach Goodwin has shifted the men about in the different shells so that the make-up of each shell has been changed. The main trouble with the oarsmen seems to be an inability to keep the boat moving on an even keel. Hardly any, eight keeps steady, but rocks from side to side with each stroke of the oars. The men have learned the stroke well enough on the machines, but the stroke well enough on the machines, but there are so many trifling faults of execution in the work done by each one that the effect as viewed in each boatload, is poor indeed. But there are many new men who are showing well, and Coach Goodwin expects that by the time the crew is selected, he will be able to get some good ones to fill up the empty spots.

The first and second 'varsity eights will be picked on May 1, Goodwin said yesterday. Although there is only one man left of last year's Poughkeepsie crew, it is pretty well settled that a certain few men will earn reating in the boat. J. S. Maeder, the captain, will of course have a place. According to Goodwin's system, a boat which tapers, on the point of weight, from the waist down to the bow and stern, is the ideal one. It is possible that Maeder may have stroke's place. Gerald S. O'Loughlin of the 1902 crew, who did not row last year, will also in all probability have a seat this time, probably at No. 7. Arthur L. Willis, A. MacKenzie and Edwin H. Updike, all members of last year's 'varsity four, and who have had two seasons of rowing, should also earn places. There are many men trying for the other seats, and it is problematical just who will win out. In all likelihood Rudolph L. Von Bernuth of the junior 'varsity in 1902 will gein a seat, leaving only two to be filled. C. W. W. Cuthel will be coxswain for the third time. there are so many triffing faults of execu-

LIVELY SQUASH RACQUETS.

FINE SPORT AT ROCKAWAY HUNT-ING CLUB TOURNEY.

P. Blagden, National Champion, Defeats Former Title Holder George I. Scott -Herbert Harriman and R. Fincke Also Win Matches in Opening Round

Three matches were played yesterday in the squash racquet tournament at the Rockaway Hunting Club, the first event in the courts this year, and, as it was the open-ing invitation fixture of the season, besides those who came to see the tournament matches many of the members inspected the enlarged and redecorated clubhouse at Cedarhurst, which has been doubled in size since the fire last winter. The winners in the squash contests were W. P. Blagden, the present champion at the game; R. Fincke and Herbert Harriman, the amateur golf champion of 1890, who has just returned from France. The pair for the first match were W. P. Blagden, the champion, who oddly enough had drawn George I. Scott, former champion for two years and runner-up this year. The terrific service and returns of the champion who has great wrist power and sends a lightning ball from an ordinary lawn tennis rac-quet, told in his favor and made Scott seem quet, toid in his favor and made Scott seem slow by comparison. Really, however, both were at their best and no better match has been seen for a long while. The rallies were long, especially in the first game, which was set at 13. Blagden, who usually sends a straight up-and-down service, while Scott plays around the court, adopted the latter's style and ran out with five aces. Blagden followed the same tactics in the second game, winning by 15—9. The match by hands:

R. Fincke of the Racquet and Tennis Club and W. Adams of the home club were the second pair in the preliminary round. It was the fastest and most even contest that could be imagined, the ball whirling around the court in a cyclonic way or shooting with rocketlike swiftness, as the men varied their style. Adams won the first game, 15—8, and Fincke the second, 15—9, but the third was a terrific struggle. Adams got 6 aces in the first hand, but after ding-dong work the score was 10 all on the fitteenth hand. In the next hand, Fincke secured 4 more, but Adams worked his end up to 13—14. Then, by a return to the corner just over the telltale that Fincke could not get, Adams gained the needed ace and the game was set at 14 for three. Adams got an ace in the next hand, but then Fincke scored and ran out in two hands, both well fought out. The score:

The squash and tennis committee, L. Stuart Wing, J. Henry Harper and George de Forrest, with Albert Francke, alternated in marking the matches. The three tiers of the gallery were crowded, the onlookers including a number of women.

There was an impromptu "housewarming" throughout the afternoon in the clubhouse, the new rooms and decorations eliciting many compliments. Besides the renovation of the former rooms, the extension includes a reception room and card room for the women members, and a large dining room, while above there are a number of new living rooms. An addition adjoining the men's lockers near the squash courts is a Dutch room, the gift of L. Stuart Wing. It has an open fireplace and is trimmed in Flemish oak, with handlaid green Holland paper, and decorated on the shelves with a collection of imported mugs and steins, the gift of the club's president, G. C. Rand. There will be a reception next Saturday, when the semi-final will be played.

COURT TENNIS. Joshua Crane, Jr., Retains the National Championship.

semi-final will be played.

A gathering that filled the dedans and side gallery to their full capacity watched the final match yesterday in the national court tennis championship at the Racque and Tennis Club.

The full strength of the home club was on hand and a sprinkling of Bostonians, the latter division having the last cheers, as their representative, Joshua Crane, Jr., de-latter division having the last cheers, as their representative, Joshua Crane, Jr., defeated Charles E. Sands of this city by three games to love and won the title for the fourth successive year.

Crane was on his best game and showed a proficiency that, according to George Standing, would probably win for him the court tennis championship abroad, should be go over to the Queen's Club next year.

Sands, on the other hand, seemed overtained, and possibly was somewhat stale from his week in the court and the hard match with O. S. Campbell. The latter was the referee. Crane, however, had to work very hard to win the second game, which was carried to 5 all.

Crane had the service, but the first honors were for Sands, as the champion found the net three times. By winning a short chase, which he came over to defend, Crane made the score deuce, and a long rally won by Crane gained vantage for him, after that having things quite his own way for the game, winning by 6-1.

In the second game, when 5 all, Crane won making the score 6-15, and winning the set by a hazard chase, 6-5. The last was all Crane's way, the score being 6-3.

Fast lacrosse under trying conditions was put up yesterday by the Crescent A. C. team in the match with the Stevens Institute team. Despite the disagreeable weather the game at Bay Ridge was witnessed by one of the most enthusiastic crowds of the season. The most enthusiastic crowds of the season. The Crescents proved their superiority and won by 9 goals to 3. In the initial period the score stood 5 to 1 in favor of the Crescents, Cole saving the Jersey team from a shut-out by a fine sidelong shot. For the Crescents, Wall made 2, Gill 2 and Kennedy 1 of the five tallies. In the second half for Stevens Gayley and Davis did the scoring. For the home squad Kennedy. Simpson, O'Flynn and Liffton each tallied, leaving the final score 9 goals to 3 in favor of the Crescents.

The way the committeemen voted was not given out. Prior to the discussion two new associate members were elected, the Omaha, (Neb) Country Club, and the Oakmont Country Club of Pittsburg, Pa., and three clubs were elected to allied membership. Inwood Country Club, Long Island; Middlebrook Golf Club, Dover, N. H., and the Wyantemuck Golf Club, Great Barrington, Mass.

To fulfil the conditions of the amendment passed at the annual meeting, the executive committee was raised from seven to nine by the election of Heyward G. Both are known as participants in metropolitan tournaments, Mr. Leavitt, who was formerly a member of Baltusrol, being a brotherin-law of W. Fellowes Morgan.

There was a full attendance of the executive committee. The president, G. Herbert Windeler, of Boston, was in the chair, the others present being the vice-presidents, Adrian H. Larkin, of the Yountakah Country Club, N. J., and E. P. Martin, of the Chicago Golf Club; the secretary, W. Fellowes Morgan, Baltusrol Golf Club; the treasurer, S. Y. Heebner, Philadelphia Cricket Club, and the committeemen, Daniel Chauncey, Garden City Golf Club, and Frederick James, Glen View (Ill.) Golf Club.

In the first monthly handicap at the St. Andrews Golf Club yesterday the rain weeded out the field to finish to seven, but all found the course in fine order and the golfing splendid barring the weather. The results:

Austin G. Fox. 104, 15-89; Francis B. Allen, 103, 9-94; D. P. Kingsley, 97, 3-94; Albert McClave, 99, 4-99; G. L. Fielder, 101, 6-95; Walter E. Hodgman, 102, 5-97; "Archie" Reld, 100, 0-100.

Rain fell throughout the afternoon at the Dyker Meadow Golf Club yesterday, and the sea fog was so heavy that the pairs had to employ forecaddies, so that only seven of the fifteen starters in the first monthly handicap handed in cards. The figures: J. F. Pierce, 103, 22-81; Howard P. Walden, 100, 14-86; John C. Powers, 96, 8-88; F. B. Fiske, 111, 22-89; F. J. Phillips, 102, 12-90; W. H. PINEHURST, N. C., Aprill 9.—A thirty-six hole tie play-off between Professionals Aleck Ross and Jack Hobens was the spectacular feature of the medal play open Southern champion event which brought the week's programme of the United North and South amateur championship tournament to a close to-day. On the morning round, Ross made an 81, which was the highest score on the list, but he made a magnificentrally in the afternoon, doing a 71 and tying with Hobens at 152. In a sixteen hole tie play-off, he won out with five strokes to his credit, a total score for the 52 holes, of 221 against 226.

A. H. Fenn, the Palm Beach and Poland Spring professional, was in brilliant form, finishing third in the list with 153 and winning third money, leading Walter J. Travis, the amateur champion, and Donald J. Ross, professional, of the Pinehurst Club, and the Oakley Country Club, Watertown, a single stroke. The remarkable steadiness of the champion was shown by two even rounds of 77 each, but the pace was a bit too fast. The scores of the leaders follow:

Alexander Ross, 81, 71-152; Jack Hobens, 76, 76-152; A. H. Fenn, 76, 77-153; Walter J. Travis, N. T. T. 1-154; Donald J. Ross, 80, 74-154; Bernard Nicholls, 75, 83-158; C. B. Cory, 77, 84-161.

NEW YORK A. C. LADIES' DAY. C. M. Daniels Wins 100-Yard Swim in Fast Time.

The fifty-third Ladies' D of the New York A. C. yesterday was partly spoiled by the threatening weather, and later by the rain, consequently the attendance was not up to the standard. However, for those fair ones who did put in an appearance the usual gala time was provided. The clubhouse was open to visitors from 11 o'clock in the morning till 6 o'clock in the evening, and during this time there were all sorts of athletic exhibitions. Club members and in-structors furnished the sinews of war. F. J. Byrne and W. T. Heintz, with Profs. Gousky and Kock, fenced with foils and single stick; and E. J. Giannini, with H. Block, T. H. Burch Jr., W. Duncombe, E. Ashley, C. Swart, R. Wiggin, A. L. Thompson and W. L. Benham tumbled, performed on the sidehorse, flying rings and parallel bars. Prof. Mike Donovan boxed with L. M. D. The aquatic part of the programme was enjoyed by the women and they flocked to the natatorium while the events were contested. The best competition was the 100-yard invitation, in which there were candidates from Yale and Columbia universities. The winner was C. M. Daniels of the New York A. C., who from scratch covered the distance in the splendid time of 1 minute 4 seconds and was timed in his heat 1 minute 3 2-5 seconds. The aquatics concluded with a game of water polo between the New York A. C. and a mixed team of Yale and Columbia, the New Yorks winning by 5 goals to 0.

ATHLETICS AT YALE.

Track Team Weak in Field Events-Crew Progressing Favorably.

NEW HAVEN, April 9 -- Comparatively few track men have remained in New Haven during the Easter vacation. Those that have done so have been reporting daily to Trainer Murphy for light work at Yale Field. A great effort is to be made to develop men in the field events. In this department Yale seems to be exceedingly weak, where in former years she has been strong. The only high jumpers of even average ability are Jack and Alexander, neither capable of more than 5 feet 11 inches. Vietor, '04, has jumped well over six feet before, but has a bad ankle, which will hinder him greatly. Fallows,

Dr. Douglas Wins in Interborough Tournsment-Triple Tie Unbroken.

A large number of enthusiasts witnessed the game between Dr. Walter G. Douglas and S. M. Canda yesterday in the interborough billiard tournament at Maurice Daly's academy. It was the third game of the triple tie and was won by Dr. Douglas. Had Canda won the game the prize would be his, but since he was unsuccessful in his efforts it will remain for another series to decide the winner of the tournament. The game was the best that has been played since the Liederkranz tournament for the national amateur championship last February.

Dr. Douglas excelled himself in this exhibition. The particular feature of his game was his ability to make the most difficult was his ability to make the most difficult draw shots. His average was 9 21-31, but in the first four innings, with runs of 31 and 20 and a run of 6, he averaged 14½. In the next five innings he tallied only 16 points and his average dropped to 7 1-9; but in four innings, with runs of 26 and 28, he brought it up to 11 4-13, and held it at that point for fourteen innings. In the last six innings he slumped a bit. Meanwhile Canda was plugging away trying to lessen the breach between himself and his opponent, but he was unsuccessful, as Douglas advanced his lead to almost a century. Canda played his usual game and averaged 67-31; but after the first few innings he saw that he could not win.
